

WOLSELEY TO HELP LOOKS LIKE DEFEAT

Starts For South Africa Which Results in Gossip.

It is Believed That He Will Help Out Kitchener in the Boer War.

THE BOERS SUCCEED IN ESCAPING

London, March 15.—Field Marshal Lord Wolseley will start for Cape Town today. Although the officials deny that his trip is anything but a private visit, gossip connects it with the military situation.

It is pointed out that Lord Wolseley's knowledge of South Africa, gained as a fighter and administrator, might be highly useful to Lord Kitchener, either at the base, Cape Town, or at Pretoria.

Lord Wolseley, himself, says his trip is entirely private.

Colonel Frank Rhodes and Arthur Rhodes, brothers of Cecil Rhodes, and Lady Methuen will be passengers on the steamer which will take Lord Wolseley to Cape Town.

BOERS MAKE THEIR ESCAPE.

Heilbron, Orange River Colony, March 15.—Commandant Mantz, with the Heilbron command of Boers, broke through the Heilbron-Wolvehoek block house line at Gottenburg. The Boers had been pursued for several days. So far as known only one Boer was killed. The British columns, during the course of the pursuit of Commandant Mantz, picked up scattered parties of Boers, aggregating fifty men.

LARGE CROWDS

MR. H. INTEREST CONTINUES AT THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The protracted meeting at the First Christian church continues to draw large crowds each evening, and much interest is being manifested. Rev. F. G. Tyrrell preached a strong sermon last night on "Thoughtfulness," from Isa. 1:3, "My people doth not consider." Isaiah was essentially a preacher of the city and he spoke burning words to the city people of his time. That they are applicable to this day and time is evidenced by Mr. Tyrrell's points last night which were very forceful in regard to this strenuous life today that is crowding thoughtfulness of God from the minds of many, even professing Christians. The people who received the rebuke of Isaiah were a people zealous for the maintenance of the externals of religion, which is another danger of today.

Tomorrow afternoon there will be three services at the same hour in this church. Mr. Tyrrell will conduct the one for men only. Mrs. Guy Williamson of Illinois, the one for ladies, and Mr. Williamson the one for children, these will be held in the auditorium, Sunday school room, and above stairs respectively. Mr. Tyrrell, will, also, fill the pulpit at the church hours.

Mr. Guy Williamson leads the song service which is excellent. He is assisted by his wife.

The World's Fair Bill Was Not Taken Up in the House This Morning.

Big Appropriations Made For the Eddyville Penitentiary Today.

OTHER LATE NEWS BY WIRE

THE LEGISLATURE.

Frankfort, Ky., March 15.—The house this morning refused by a vote of 50 to 41 to sustain a motion of the committee on rules to take up the Cox senatorial bill appropriating $100,000 for Kentucky's exhibit at the World's fair. This may mean its defeat.

The house passed bills appropriating $40,000 for additional cell house and $15,000 for installation of Grinnell fire sprinkler system in the Eddyville penitentiary.

The house passed resolutions of respect in memory of the late Former Governor Altgeld of Illinois. It was adopted by a rising vote.

About all the revenue bill has been passed on with but one amendment. The bill will probably be entirely passed Monday.

The Klair bill, allowing the city clerk to select the newspaper that is to be public printer in second class cities, instead of the mayor, was passed in the house.

The senate committee will report unfavorably the bill passed in the house making gambling a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

The governor has signed the child labor bill, which prohibits children under fourteen years old working in mines or factories except by consent of parents, guardians or county judge.

The house passed Mr. Clark's bill repealing section 5, article 15, of an act relating to executions, approved June 10, 1893. The section repealed reads: "The wages not to exceed $50 of all persons who work for wages shall be exempt from execution, attachment, distress for rent, garnishment or fee bills; provided, that the exemption of $50 shall not apply to debts contracted for food, raiment or house rent for the family."

The house passed a registration bill which adds the fifth class to the list. It requires every one who registers to have a certificate which he must present at the polls when he votes. If he has no certificate he can get one from the county clerk by paying 50 cents and making affidavit that he lost his.

ANOTHER TRIAL.

GRAVES COUNTY SLANDER SUIT TO BE HEARD FOR THE THIRD TIME.

Mayfield has a slander suit that seemingly can't be ousted from the docket. Miss Minnie Nicholson of that county sued D. R. Merritt for $10,000 for alleged slander about three years ago. When the case was first tried the defendant won and a new hearing was asked, denied and the case was taken to the court of appeals. It was reversed and sent back for another hearing. In the second trial the plaintiff was awarded 1 cent and costs and an appeal taken. The court of appeals has just reversed again, and the case now comes back for another trial. The young lady formerly lived near Kansas, Graves county, but now resides in Ballard.

MRS. CORNELIUS VANDERBILT.

Perhaps no more complete social triumph was ever gained than that achieved by Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt in securing Prince Henry of Prussia for her guest at a private dinner. Mrs. Vanderbilt was Miss Grace Wilson before her marriage, and in capturing a Vanderbilt for a husband she rather offended some of Gotham's social dictators.

WEEK'S NEWS IN THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Clearings this week, $553,380. Same week last year $500,562. Increase, $52,818.

Wholesale grocers and commission men report a very active trade the past week. The opening of the weather and better conditions of the roads, although they are still in a bad condition, has enabled the traveling men to make their usual rounds.

Whiskey houses report business as satisfactory.

The hardware trade is good. The harness and collar trade is fair. Stocks on hand are ample.

Retail trade with the dry goods people the past week was splendid, the spring shoppers taking advantage of the several fine days.

The furniture stores, too, had good retail trade this week.

The bicycle dealers report trade opening up slowly.

With the hardware men trade has been very good. The farmers are laying in supplies for the season ahead.

The local implement houses too have been busy all the week waiting on country trade and report very satisfactory business so far.

The farmers are bringing in lots of tobacco. Every local dealer has had his hands full this week handling the large number of wagons that have come in.

The mills and lumber men report spring business opening up well. There is a good deal of building and repairing throughout the city and trade in this line has been good.

BANK CHANGE.

CITIZENS' BANK AT FULTON MADE THE CITY NATIONAL.

The Citizens' bank of Fulton will in about a week be changed to the City National bank of Fulton. Cooke, assistant cashier.

How Capt. Buck Met His Fiancee in New York City.

Kentuckians Were Sight-Seeing in Gotham When They Became Acquainted.

GREAT BRIDGE BUILDER HAPPY

A New York dispatch says of the marriage of Miss Mira R. Gould of Paducah to Captain Leffert Lefferts Buck of New York:

Colonel Buck is sixty-two years old and was regarded as a confirmed bachelor. Colonel Buck met some old Kentucky friends at his home, 46 East Twenty-first street, and with the party was Miss Gould. They were sight-seeing, and the greatest marvel they saw was the unfinished bridge, with its narrow footway swinging high over the water. Being venture-some Kentuckians, they wanted to test its dangers. Chief Engineer Buck, tall and rugged, led the way, and the next in line was Miss Gould. The wind was blowing, and the aerial footway was so uncertain a path that the engineer took the girl's hand to help her along, while the more timid turned back.

While they stood there, high above the water, their coats wrapped tight around them and the girl's hair flying in the face of the man who steadied her, he said:

"The building of this bridge has been my dream. When it is finished it will be the greatest bridge in many respects in the world, and then I shall be happy."

Carefully he helped her down the long swaying curve, and the young girl went her way and the engineer his. But they met again when the work on the bridge was further advanced, and it was not so difficult or so dangerous to walk on the middle of the great span. He would not be altogether happy when the bridge was completed, and he told her why. Colonel Buck's best friends say and he would not deny it, that while swinging there high over the busy East river he told her that he wished she would share his honors with him.

She asked him to "help her down to earth first" and then she would answer him. She finally told him not to give up hope, but that he must come to see her in the Bluegrass State, and there she would give him her final answer.

Colonel Buck has just returned from Kentucky, and he said: "I won't say a word about it, but I don't believe I'll ever come down to earth again."

"Has the day been set?" he was asked.

"Not yet," he replied, without thinking, "but next June will do to talk about it."

He created a disturbance in a downtown saloon. Two of the cases, on motion of the prosecuting attorney, were dismissed, and he was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail for carrying a pistol concealed.

A Democratic Candidate For Congress to Be Chosen May 24th.

The First District Committee Met Here This Morning—Emery Recognized For McCracken.

THE MEETING WAS HARMONIOUS

The First District Democratic Congressional committee met in executive session this morning at 10 o'clock in rooms 64 and 66 at the Palmer House and voted a primary election for May 24 to name a candidate to succeed Congressman Wheeler.

There was some little opposition to the date, the representatives from McCracken and Graves counties wanting the time set in August. Chairman Mott Ayres of Fulton presided and L. E. Dodd of Princeton was secretary.

The call was read and a vote taken immediately on the primary. Graves, Livingston and Ballard counties voted by proxy, while Hickman had no representative present. Mr. Rid Reed of Livingston arrived too late to participate in the meeting. After the primary question was settled The Commoner, W. J. Bryan's paper, was endorsed, and several other matters of minor importance arranged.

It was decided that all who were candidates notify the chairman by April 15, and all committee chairmen notify him of the number of election officers necessary, and of the probable cost of the primary, that the cost may be apportioned among the candidates. There was not a vote against the primary.

If by May 1 there is only one candidate the chairman shall call the committee together and declare the candidate the nominee of the party.

An incident of unusual interest was that Mr. Charles Emery, chairman of the McCracken county Democratic committee, was recognized as the chairman of the McCracken county committee, and took part in the meeting, while Mr. Frank Digel, who claims the chairmanship, was refused admittance, and Mr. Joe Potter, who at one time claimed to be chairman, was also sent down stairs without being permitted to attend the meeting.

There are now only three candidates for the democratic nomination, Ollie James of Marion, Sam Crossland of Mayfield and Geo. W. Greenup of Paducah. They were all in the city today. It is believed that there will be no other candidates.

If the choice of a date for the primary is any indication ten of the committeemen were for James, and two for Crossland, as it is understood Mr. James wanted an early primary and Mr. Crossland one as late as possible.

AND F. T. BOWLING SAYS HE WAS DAMAGED $500 THEREBY.

A suit was filed in the circuit court yesterday afternoon late by F. T. Bowling against George Potts for $500 damages on the grounds of a breach of contract.

The petition states that the plaintiff entered into a contract with defendant to work for him at the rate of $1.50 per day and that soon after he had moved his residence from Graves county to Lone Oak, where he had been employed to work, the defendant discharged him. He says that his household effects were sold at a great sacrifice and that he is damaged to the extent of $500.

CHEWED PITCH

AND MANY OF THE YOUNGSTERS BECAME VERY ILL.

A crowd of children in Mechanicsburg last evening began chewing the pitch being used on the roof of the Paducah Textile works building. They had been warned that it would make them sick, but did not heed the warning and as a result some of them were very ill for a time.

"I've been on this road ten years," said the conductor on a Southern railroad to a passenger who complained of the slow time. "I know what I'm talking about."

"Ten years, eh?" said the passenger. "What reason did you get on at?"

"Surely stories."

IN THE AIR.

THE GERMISH OF A MAY GRIPPE ARE CONVEYED THROUGH THE ATMOSPHERE.

No one can escape the la grippe germ because when an epidemic of the disease is prevailing the air is laden with it.

The reason that everyone does not have the disease at the same time is because the persons who are enjoying perfect health are able to successfully resist and throw off the infection, while those who for any reason are not in the best of health, fall ready victims.

The first symptoms are those of acute catarrh resembling a hard cold and if prompt treatment is applied at this time, it can be easily broken up; one of the best remedies at this stage is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by druggists everywhere and if taken freely, say one tablet every hour or two for two or three days, the danger of pneumonia and serious complications will be averted.

The Rev. L. E. Palmer, Baptist clergyman of Ceresco, Mich., makes a statement of interest to all catarrh and grippe sufferers. He says: "Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have certainly been a blessing to me. I have used them freely this fall and winter and have found them a safeguard against la grippe and catarrhal troubles from which I have suffered for years. I feel that I can freely and conscientiously recommend them."

Persons who suffer from catarrh of the head and throat are very susceptible to la grippe, and such will find a pleasant, convenient and safe remedy in this new catarrh cure.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are composed entirely of harmless, antiseptic and may be used as freely as necessary as they contain no cocaine, opiate or poisonous drug of any kind.

NEARLY ALL BOXES

IN PADUCAH'S FIRE ALARM SYSTEM ARE NOW WORKING.

The city's fire alarm system, which was wrecked by the latest storm the latter part of January, will be working by Monday. Today the following boxes were out of service: Box 23, at Seventh and Washington streets; 24, at Seventh and Jackson streets; 25, at Eleventh and Jackson streets; 26, at Eleventh and Jones streets; 30, at Ninth and Clark streets. This leaves the following boxes to be repaired: Box 16, at Broadway and Fifth; 18, at Third and Broadway; 17, at First and Broadway; 19, at Second and Court; 22, at Eleventh and Broadway; 35, at Fourteenth and Broadway; 44, at the railroad shops; 46, at Seventeenth and Broadway; 26, at Eighth and Jefferson, and one at the water plant.

These will be working by Monday night from present indications.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

THE PADUCAH GUN CLUB RE-ORGANIZED AT THE CITY HALL LAST NIGHT.

The Paducah Gun club met last night at the city hall and re-organized for the year. The officers elected were: James M. Lang, president; W. B. Kennedy, vice president; W. A. Davis, secretary; Richard Rudy, treasurer; Ben Weille, captain, and Haskel Hughes, referee. There is to be a big tournament here next fall, and an executive committee, by order of the club, will be appointed by President Lang to take the proper steps to fix a date that will conflict with the date of no other tournament.

Captain Ben Weille was appointed to put all the traps and other paraphernalia in good order at once.

There will be a practice shoot every Friday. The club's finances are good, and it was decided to assess every member an extra dollar, to be paid immediately.

LADY AND GHOST.

House No Longer Haunted After Dream.

In a recently published volume, "Dreams and Their Meanings," the following story is told: "A certain lady dreamed frequently of a certain house until it had become exceedingly familiar to her. She knew all its rooms, its furniture, and like a good wife that has no secrets from her husband, she often talked over all the details with him—a very pleasant fancy. One day husband and wife went into the country to see a house that they thought of taking for the summer months. They had not seen it, but the account in the house agent's list had attracted them. When they arrived before it they gave a simultaneous exclamation of surprise. 'Why,' said the husband, 'it is your dream house!' It was. The coincidence attracted them. They took the house. In the course of their occupancy they learned that the house had the reputation of being haunted; that several people before them had taken it for short terms, but had seen—or fancied they had seen—something, and had left before their term of tenancy expired. Had these new tenants not brought their own old servants with them it is likely they would have had some difficulty in whipping up a domestic staff, so uncanny was the reputation of their apparently quite reputable house. The new tenants dwelt in the house with all satisfaction and peace through the summer months until their term of tenancy came to an end. On leaving husband and wife expressed their satisfaction to the local agent. 'The only thing,' said the wife, 'that we were disappointed in about the house is that we never saw the ghost.'

"Oh, no," said the ghost agent. 'We knew you would not see the ghost.'

"What do you mean?" asked the wife, rather nettled.

"Oh," the agent repeated, 'we knew you would not see the ghost. You are the ghost that people have always seen here!'"—Chicago News.

His Retort.

A wealthy Riverina squatter, now departed, as he used to phrase it, "to the Great Master," was noted almost as much for his attic wit as for his parsimony. He also stuttered very badly, and helped along his halting utterance with a frequent ejaculation of "D'ye see? D'ye see?" His niggardly traits gained him widespread local unpopularity and the bitter enmity of sundowners, who were always rigorously refused rations at his stations. Smarting under this unusual inhospitality, some disappointed swaggers on one occasion set fire to one of the squatter's wool sheds, and then wrote upon a gate: "We've dam well burnt down your wool shed. D'ye see? D'ye see?" Of course, it caught the big man's eye when next he passed through. For a moment he contemplated the announcement, and then with a sardonic grin took the stump of a blue pencil from his pocket and scribbled underneath: "It was dam well insured. D'ye see? D'ye see?" Household Words.

Mrs. Ida McDonald,
Supreme Deputy of the Maccabees of the World.

THOUSANDS of women are unconsciously, step by step, following the path from health to sickness. The failure of health is often so gradual that women do not notice the coming of disease until actual pain and suffering is upon them. After the pain ceases temporarily they think little of "the troubles that come and go in a day." They do not know that headaches, biliousness, stomach troubles and colds create deep-seated diseases. They do not realize that a sallow complexion and a leathery skin are forerunners of Bright's disease of the kidneys; that constipation and a feeling of languor show a torpid liver. Bright's disease comes from diseased kidneys and develops completely before any warning is given, because kidneys have few nerves. A torpid liver invites all kinds of contagion. Irregular menstruation is the beginning of a life of suffering affecting every part of the body if not promptly corrected. Wine of Cardui is the remedy that has a record of over 1,000,000 cures of this malady. Every woman who values her health should keep Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught in her home and take it regularly before and during the menstrual period. This will insure a regular and healthy menstruation and guard against a running down of the system which always results in such serious trouble for women.

Thousands of women praise Wine of Cardui as a remedy for women's ills. It is a medicine widely known in every state in the Union and we have yet to hear of a case of female weakness where Wine of Cardui has been taken which it has not cured or greatly benefited.

Mrs. Ida McDonald, No. 477 Beaumont St., Detroit, Mich., is a prominent woman who was greatly benefited by this great medicine. Mrs. McDonald is the supreme deputy of the Maccabees of the world, and one of the most widely known women in the United States. Thousands of women gather to hear her lecture everywhere she goes. The great work she has done for the Maccabees is appreciated by every member of the order. She was so absorbed in her work that she neglected to give her health proper care—failed to take warning that the symptoms of approaching kidney trouble gave her, the sallow complexion and torpid liver. But Wine of Cardui cured her the same as it has cured thousands of others and Mrs. McDonald has written this letter in order that other suffering women may secure from Wine of Cardui the same relief she got from it.

"For four years I suffered with torpid liver until my skin looked yellow and dull. I then found my kidneys were affected and had severe pains across my back, and I felt that I must do something to regain my health. A friend advocated your Wine of Cardui treatment so strongly that I decided to try it, although I had little faith in patent medicines.

"I am now very thankful that I did so, for within ten days blessed relief came to me, and in less than three months I was cured, and have enjoyed fine health ever since.

"I know there is nothing better for a sick woman who wishes to enjoy perfect health and am very pleased to give my hearty endorsement."

No suffering woman can afford to ignore such a letter as Mrs. McDonald writes. Her plans and advice have proved valuable in building up one of the greatest women's organizations in the United States and she takes time to give advice which she knows will help you. But thousands of other home-loving women have written letters like this one, all praising Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught. It is easy to put off securing this medicine, but the trouble grows worse and harder to cure. Why not be rid of the pain and suffering as soon as possible? Go to your druggist today and secure a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui and a twenty-five cent package of Theodor's Black-Draught. If you need special advice write to the Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Company, telling them all about your case and a private letter will be sent you. Do not delay in securing this medicine. There is nothing to gain and everything to lose by delay. The choice is before you. Will or will you not secure relief now by taking Wine of Cardui? All druggists sell $1 bottles of Wine of Cardui and 25c packages of Theodor's Black-Draught.

Increase in Texas Rivers.
 The measurements of the rivers of Texas by the hydrographers of the United States geological survey have brought to light the fact that during 1900 there was a marked increase in all the streams investigated. This was found to be particularly evident in the streams which rise in the extensive Edwards plateau. The Edwards plateau is a flat tableland in south central Texas some 2,000 square miles in area, the extension of the high plains of western Kansas. From the sides of this tableland many rivers flow in deep and picturesque canyons and are of great economic value for irrigation, power and supply. Owing to the increased amount of water in 1900, the entire section through which these rivers passed raised the best stock of the last ten years and were enabled to make use of continued irrigation and water power, which had not been the case for a number of years. The geological survey is conducting systematic measurements on about twenty rivers in Texas, the results of which will be of use in their future development.

Observations
....at Random
 An I. O. fireman recently washed his face with a snake and had he not been a sober man would have taken the Keeley cure immediately. He came into the city on one of the freight trains running between Memphis and Paducah and when this city was reached and the engine taken to the shops he secured his bucket, which is always kept in the cab for the use of the engineer and fireman in washing their faces and hands after a trip, and drew a bucket of water from the tender. He then began to soap his hands and having cleaned them thoroughly, took a handful of water and began to scrub his face. He felt a peculiar squirming in his hands and when his face was reached he knew something was wrong. Going to the light, he made an examination and found that he had a small snake in his hands, probably taken from the tender when the water was drawn. He did not need an invitation to drop the reptile.
 Several days ago, when the farmers were bringing in their tobacco, several countrymen entered a downtown saloon to get a bottle of whiskey, and when the purchase was made the bartender invited them to take a drink on the house. The invitation did not have to suffer a repetition and the farmers were soon taking them over the bar pretty freely. Finally a well known "man about town" entered and called for absinthe, a drink noted for its power to intoxicate on short order, and one of the farmers thought he would try the drink too, "just through curiosity." He secured his drink and decided that it was not what he thought it was and, to take the taste out of his mouth, swallowed another "straight." He soon saw that he had backed up against something he had misjudged, and when he finished he had landed at the wagon yard, but it required three of the strongest men to take him there. He wanted to exterminate the town and succeeded in partially wrecking the wagon yard. It was necessary to tie him to keep him out of mischief and the next morning he had nearly everything imaginable following him.
 "When Reuben comes to town" again he will probably steer clear of absinthe.
 The newsboys in the larger cities are pretty tough, but if there are any in the world that can beat several in Paducah they should be placed in a museum.
 A gentleman coming out of the Palmer House last week dropped several small pieces of change as he was securing change to purchase a paper with. The boys made a dive for the coin, amounting to not over 25 cents, and the gentleman thought, of course, that the boys intended handing it back to him, but he was destined to a sad disappointment, for he did not know the boys. No sooner had their dirty fingers closed over the coins than they shot out in all directions and were soon out of sight. The gentleman did not get his paper or his lost money either and will hereafter purchase his papers in the book stores and news stands when he comes to Paducah.
 Several small boys who make it a practice to jump on passing wagons have been cured of the habit completely, at least from jumping on paperhangers' wagons. Several afternoons ago the boys were playing near the city hall when one of the wall paper wagons passed with a large bucket of paste in the rear. The paste was hot, having been taken off the fire but a few minutes only, and as the boys jumped on the wagon struck a depression in the street and the paste slopped over and onto their hands and wrists and badly burned them.
 A Metropolis man caught a bottle floating in the river the other day containing the following note:
 "Louisville, Ky., Feb. 28.
 To whom may find this note will find enclosed in bottle description of me. Five feet six inches high, weight 150 pounds, complexion light, color of hair blonde, age twenty-two years; never been married, but would like to be. I hope whoever finds this note will write at once. I am impatiently waiting for an answer.
 Miss Julia Belle Parker."
 The Herald adds:
 It is to be hoped that Metropolis boys will lose no time in answering this dear girl's letter. She is impatiently waiting for an answer, and who

SHUTTING OUT COMPETITION

The public is entitled to consideration in the disposal of public matters. A public library is a public institution and Paducah is to have a public library on a site that must be paid for by the public. In building this library, the public's wishes should be consulted.

One of the principal things in building a library is the selection of an architect. The beauty, substantiality and utility of an edifice depend almost solely on the architect, and in building a structure that is to belong to the public, and is to be seen, visited and used for perhaps many years, it is reasonable to assume that the public wants the best architect and the most suitable plans that are possible to get. If a man is building a house of his own it is different. He can do as he pleases, and select plans that please his own fancy, whether they be of attractive and enduring quality or not. But in acting for the public, men have a far more responsible duty to perform, and they cannot be too careful in discharging their sacred obligation to the people.

When the matter of selecting an architect for the public library here first came up, there was considerable discussion as to how much competition should be allowed. The former city council limited the competition to local architects, and selected one set drawn by a most capable, and a first class architect. But public sentiment was in favor of allowing a wider latitude, and opening the competition to outside architects who wanted an opportunity simply to submit their plans. There was no harm in this, and it had an element of fairness about it to which no one could reasonably object. The present city council realized this, and seemed to thoroughly understand public sentiment in the matter. It did not indorse the action of its predecessor, and held the project in abeyance until recently, when trustees were appointed.

These trustees are all well known, capable gentlemen, but in providing plans for the library, they have shut out not only outside, but all competition. Judging from what has been heard in many quarters since then, the public in general, believes a mistake has been made. A number of architects desired and still desire, to offer drawings, and while perhaps none could be submitted that would be better or more suitable than the plans that will be furnished by the architect selected, it would be only fair to the public and to the architects, to give all an equal show. If the plans of a local architect are selected as the best offered, it would be very gratifying to know that our architects are inferior to none. If the plans of some outside architect are adopted, it would only indicate that he happened to have the best. Architects in the large cities often draw plans for mammoth structures thousands of miles away and structures that they never see. If the plans are accurately drawn, and it is presumed that a good architect would draw them no other way, and the contract is let to a competent contractor, which it would be the duty of the trustees to do, there is no reason to anticipate any trouble, or any necessity for a visit from the architect, no matter where he might reside. This would indicate the feasibility of outside competition. We can't builders, as a criterion to go by in Paducah. Our contractors are fully capable of erecting a building from the most intricate plans, if accurately drawn, without the architect's ever being seen. Desired changes might necessitate the presence of the architect, but after plans are carefully examined and adopted, there should be no changes. This view should do away with the objection to outside competition.

But if the trustees are firm in their determination to bar outside competition, they should at least give all the home men a chance. The public favors it. If plans are submitted by our architects, and the choice of the trustees is that of the architect already chosen, it will satisfy the public, the architects, and show that the trustees had admirable judgment in making their selection.

But as it stands the public seems dissatisfied. The trustees might find it advisable to reconsider its action, and permit architects to submit plans in a fair, impartial competition.

AN UNIQUE FIGHT.

The authorities in New York City are fighting for open saloons on Sunday. The contest is waxing quite warm, and the district attorney, a very able man, has sent to the legislature a brief showing cause why the excise law should pass. Some of the reasons are broad and unique, and argue a new era of municipal government in New York. It has been claimed for some time that one reason for so much corruption, blackmail and vice in the large cities is the stringent, intolerant laws that are totally out of keeping with the spirit of the people, and the demands of the place.

A few of the attorney's reasons are:

"Under Democratic forms of government a law is not permanently enforceable by elected authorities where a large number of persons in the locality don't consider the act forbidden as immoral in itself, and are unwilling to yield willing obedience to the law.

"In Greater New York there are a large number of people who don't consider it immoral to enter a saloon and take a drink on Sunday. New York is a cosmopolitan city and its inhabitants, being citizens and voters, have a right to have their wishes respected, and their tastes and habits considered whether they be foreign-born or native born.

"The effect of the present law is to do irreparable damage to the community by tending to degrade those in the liquor business and cause them to lose their self-respect and their respect for all law. The effect of the proposed change would be in an opposite direction.

"An unenforceable law as hereinabove defined always develops blackmail.

"The effect on the community through the debauching of the police by the present law favoring blackmail is very serious."

TRIBUTE TO THE MARTYR.

(Buffalo News.)

The state memorial exercises was a heartfelt tribute to the memory of President McKinley. Noted men of the state gathered at Albany last night to show, irrespective of party affiliation, their profound admiration of a great, and good man, and able statesman, and a lover and defender of his country.

Charles Emory Smith was the orator of the occasion, and no man in the nation could be selected to speak of

ADD UP THE GAINS.

The virtue of one dose is so small you can't see any change. But add together all the little virtues from all the little doses and the effect is very marked.

In consumption, as in other cases, the results secured from continued treatment with Scott's Emulsion come from the accumulation of many small gains. A little gain in strength each day—a little gain in weight each day—if continued for weeks, amounts to something.

The fact that Scott's Emulsion can be taken for so long a time without the slightest inconvenience is greatly in its favor as a medicine for consumptives. Such a medicine gives itself time to do good.

It makes new flesh and President McKinley with more of the eloquence of truth on his lips. Associated with him in conducting the affairs of the nation, admiring his character from an intimate personal acquaintance, and knowing full well the patriotic and unselfish endeavors of the man, Mr. Smith was as one specially privileged to speak in praise of the martyred president. During the events preceding the Spanish war Mr. Smith describes the president:

"Of all men in the land, he was the coolest, the calmest and the most clear-sighted. Profoundly moved, anxious beyond all expression, he was, with his waking hours, and his sleepless couch filled with brooding care, but tranquil, self-contained, sure of his own heart and sure of his own lofty and unselfish aim."

President McKinley was in all phases of his eventful life the same courageous, intelligent and earnest man as he is described in the above sentence.

England may not be a free and independent government, but sometimes they get pretty liberal in expressing their sentiments over there. A couple of councillors in Battersea borough the other day openly opposed an appropriation for entertainment in commemoration of the coronation, and had the temerity to declare that "the King was nothing but a figurehead," and that all kings looked alike to them. And only a few days previous members of parliament cheered when the announcement of General Methuen's capture and the disaster to British troops was made. It seems England is getting almost as bad as the United States for treasonable utterances. It hasn't been many years since such declarations would have been followed by a second class funeral.

A bill that will affect Paducah and be of considerable interest here is the bill compelling second class cities to receive bids for bank deposits of city funds instead of allowing the city treasurer to select the bank. It is claimed that treasurers have been getting a fee from banks for depositing municipal money there. An effort was made to include third and fourth class cities in the bill, but it was defeated. The measure, if it becomes a law, will not be effective until the terms of present officers expire.

Senator Berry, of Arkansas, made a speech against the ship subsidy bill, and it is said in some of the papers that he made a powerful argument. Senator Hanna asked him a few questions, however, that completely nonplused him. There is no man in the senate who knows more about the ship subsidy bill than Senator Hanna. His speech on it was unanswerable, and no matter how much the bill may be discussed before the vote, the necessity for such a bill, as shown by Senator Hanna, will still be evident.

The school book bill has been practically killed in the legislature. It is a good thing for the state that it has. It was only an effort to give the people of the state inferior books. The cost may have been less, but the quality would have been proportionately low. The people will not sanction any effort of such rural statesmen to change the school system in Kentucky. If there is needed a change of school books let intelligent, educated men and not politicians dictate the changes.

Another resolution has been introduced in Congress recognizing the Boers and appealing to the British government to cease hostilities. The resolution will probably never be heard of again. The Boers, like the Filipinos, can end the war any time they see fit. The people of the United States cannot afford to rectify all the wrongs in the world, and the South African war, no matter how deplorable, is something that doesn't concern us.

Another war involving Europe is now talked of. According to what some consider eminent authority the Japanese are spoiling for a fight with Russia, and expect if they can't handle the Bear without help that England will render aid and precipitate a conflict in which all European nations will participate. But it sounds like the same old rumor rehearsed.

Colonel W. J. Bryan does not seem very kindly disposed towards Hon. David B. Hill. The reason is probably that Hill is the logical leader of the Democratic party in coming campaigns. Colonel Bryan has twice demonstrated to the satisfaction of his party that he is a failure as a leader, and Mr. Hill has not.

makes childbirth easy and almost painless, by preparing the system for parturition, thus assisting Nature, and shortening labor. The painful ordeal of childbirth is robbed of its terrors, and the danger thereof greatly lessened, to both mother and child. The period of confinement is also greatly shortened, the mother rested, and the child fully developed, strong and healthy.

Morning sickness, or nausea arising from pregnancy is prevented by relieving the stomach from the pressure brought to bear on it by the expanding organ, and by which it is induced through sympathy.

As pregnancy advances, the breasts enlarge, become swollen, hard and hot. Long before the child is born, they are preparing for the secretion of milk. It is important to successful child rearing that these glands receive early consideration. Mother's Friend softens the skin, relieves the pressure, and facilitates the secretion of milk.

Undeveloped and accreted ducts, and breasts hard-caked shortly after delivery, are the result of non-treatment and likely to culminate in Mammary Abscess from which the patient suffers excruciating pain and is left with these functionally organs permanently impaired.

Mother's Friend is always applied externally and rubbed into the flesh over the region of pain. Softness, pliability and expansion are given to the muscles, tissues, fibres and sinews, allowing the elasticity necessary to bring comfort whilst with heavy burden, and cause easy issues of the child. Try it. (If all druggists $1.00. Out book "Motherhood" free.)

The Elks' carnival will be the biggest thing of the year. The more people boost it the bigger it will be, and the bigger it is the better it will be for Paducah.

The newspaper correspondents are making desperate efforts to kill off Count Tolstoi and Cecil Rhodes, but thus far with doubtful results.

It is suggested that the city council be put in the "Country Store" at the carnival and raffled off at ten cents a chance.

A SAD DEATH.

MRS. MARY M'COOLLOM, AN ESTIMABLE CHRISTIAN, A VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. Mary McCollom, a well known and highly respected lady of Elizabeth street, near Sixth, died last night at 10 o'clock from consumption, after a long illness. Mrs. McCollom had suffered for quite awhile from the disease, and recently went to San Antonio, Tex., but was not benefited, and had to return home. Since then death had been only a matter of a short time.

The deceased was twenty-four years old, and a daughter of Master Commissioner Gip Husbands. She was a kind, patient Christian and had borne her suffering with much fortitude. A husband, Mr. John McCollom, and four-year-old son, survive.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the residence, burial at Oak Grove.

THE ELKS

BUTTONS HAVE BEEN ORDERED—PIANO TO BE DONATED.

The soliciting committee of the Elks is meeting with great encouragement in its visits to the merchants. The latter part of next week a list of the contributions will be published. The buttons for the carnival have been ordered and are expected shortly. The Country Store is going to be one of the greatest things ever seen, and there will be so many things to place in it will have to be very large.

The executive committee will probably receive a piano as a donation from a big piano concern. Negotiations are now pending.

$25,000 BUILDING

Y. M. C. A. Conference Results in a Decision to Build One.

The Canvass Will Probably Begin Shortly—Efforts to Get Mr. Geo. T. Houser.

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. and Secretary H. E. Rosevear, of the state Y. M. C. A. held a conference yesterday afternoon to discuss the Y. M. C. A. home project. It was decided that a $25,000 building be built here and a committee will shortly be appointed by President D. M. Flournoy to start a canvass for the subscriptions. The merchants have expressed their approval of the project and have promised to donate liberally to the fund.

The location has not been decided but will after the canvass has been started. In some cities the association is built in the business portion of the town and rooms rented for business purposes while other buildings are used exclusively for social purposes and the spare rooms are rented to young men for lodging. This is the more favored plan and it is probable that this kind of building will be erected.

A conference will be held soon and the services of Mr. George T. Houser of Chicago a noted worker in this cause, secured to help push the canvass. Mr. Houser will be heard from shortly and it is hoped that he will consent to work here. He has a contract with associations in Massachusetts that hold good for the next six months and it is feared that he will not be able to break them.

WILL FILE TODAY.

SUIT AGAINST MANAGER BAKER FOR $5,000 DAMAGES.

Attorneys Lightfoot and Yonts will this afternoon file the suit prepared some time ago against the manager of the Noah's Ark store for $5,000 damages, for alleged malicious prosecution.

William Heisler is the petitioner and files the suit against C. N. Baker, who, April 3, 1901, had him arrested on the charge of the theft of $21 and a few cents. The case was tried and as there was no evidence against the accused the warrant was dismissed. The plaintiff claims that the prosecution was malicious and that he has been damaged to the extent of $5,000.

Heisler was an employee of the store at the time the charge was made and has always borne a good reputation.

Reported Hold-Up in Which a Drummer Was Rescued by Trainmen.

Yesterday's Fulton Leader contained an account of an alleged hold-up that is said to have occurred in the Illinois Central yards here night before last. It says:

"News has reached Fulton of a big hold-up at Paducah last night. The report is that a drummer who was walking along the Illinois Central tracks in the yards at Paducah on his way to the depot and when he reached a dark place along the route was attacked by four negroes. He was brained by a large piece of iron by one of the negroes and $22 in money and a gold watch were stolen from him. His loud shouts for help were heard by Les Dennington, of Fulton, who is a flagman and was preparing to leave Paducah for Fulton. Mr. Dennington ran to the assistance of the drummer and was himself knocked in the head by one of the negroes. Conductor Avey of the same train also heard the shouts and ran to the scene. He pulled a revolver and held three of the negroes, the fourth one escaping. The negroes were turned over to the officers and locked up. Mr. Dennington was not badly hurt, but did not regain consciousness until he reached Mayfield. The drummer was badly injured and may not recover. We were unable to learn his name. His valuables were recovered."

Nothing is known here of such an occurrence, and Marshal Crow stated this morning that he had heard nothing of it, and was certain no one had been arrested. A report similar to the above was current in the shop yards this morning, but no one knew anything about it.

IN HEN HOUSE.

THIS IS WHERE THE FIRE IN OAKTON ORIGINATED—$15,000 LOSS.

Reports from Oakton, near Hickman, which place was wiped out by fire a few days ago, state that the blaze originated in a chicken house back of Shaw's grocery. Incendiarism is suspected.

Shaw Bros. owned the grocery on the corner next to the railroad and J. D. Wrather and Co. owned a large stock of dry goods, shoes and clothing, which was in the next two rooms. The postoffice was in Wrather's store. Wrather and Skinner's drug store, Jones' meat shop and Wrather and Jones' grocery were also destroyed. The loss will amount to about $15,000, partly insured.

TWO WEEKS MORE

And the Big Grand Rivers Furnaces Will Start.

Mr. Simmons, of St. Louis, Was Here Today Enroute to the Furnaces.

Mr. E. H. Simmons of the firm of Simmons Hardware Co. of St. Louis passed through the city at noon today enroute to Grand Rivers to look over the progress made in the completion of the improvements to the furnaces there. He stated that the company was putting up hot air furnaces and that this will make the last touch to the big plant and after this is finished the plant will be started up.

"We want to make all the improvements we intend to make before we start up, so that no delay will be occasioned after we once get started."

"It will require," he continued, "about two weeks to finish the work, and then I think there will be no time lost in starting the furnaces and operating the plant."

The plant will be managed by Col. Thos. Scott of St. Louis until the first of the year, and after that Mr. Simmons will take charge, as previously announced.

The company intends to make its stock farm a big feature and already the stock is fast multiplying. At present there are about 300 goats and about 200 head of cattle. The company has fenced in about 10,000 acres, the fencing being about thirty miles in length, if stretched out in one long line.

BUILDERS ASSOCIATION.

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION WERE FILED THIS AFTERNOON.

Articles of incorporation for the Builders' association, organized by the various contractors of the city a few weeks ago, were filed this afternoon in the county clerk's office. The incorporators are: C. H. Chamblin, president; G. R. Davis, vice president; C. G. Kelley, secretary; J. M. Byrd, treasurer, and J. E. Coulson, doorkeeper. The organization is for the purpose of protecting the interests of the contractors. The association meets every Saturday night.

BADLY HURT

John Tanner, a brother-in-law of Governor W. S. Taylor, employed on the steamer J. M. Howell, was injured in a peculiar manner yesterday afternoon while at work on the boat. A rope slipped through his hands tearing and burning the thumb of his right hand nearly off. The hand was also burned badly in the palm. A burn of this nature is great deal more painful than from fire and the man suffered a great deal. His injuries were dressed here.

The COWBOY And the LADY

(By Clyde Fitch)

With the Entire KNICKERBOCKER THEATRE PRODUCTION.

The Young Romantic Actor,
S. MILLER KENT

Presenting Nat C. Goodwin's Great Success,

IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD

Coming attractions at The Kentucky: Monday night, Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels. Tuesday night, The Cowboy and the Lady. Friday night, Labadie's "Faust."

We understand Barlow and Wilson has declared they will yet have the "Greatest Minstrel Attraction America has ever seen." It is evident they have made a start in this direction—Washington, D. C. Daily Times.

If you didn't see "The Cowboy and the Lady" last night you shouldn't miss it tonight. It is one of the best shows Winnipeg has had in many a day.

Reads like a press agent's paragraph that, doesn't it? Perhaps so, but a performance so uniformly good—so delightfully artistic—calls for something more than half hearted praise. There is temptation, indeed, to indulge in superlatives, but the opening paragraph may be accepted as the epitome of an adjective embellished column of unqualified praise, which might be written with sincerity and without exaggeration.

There is no occasion for comparison between the "Teddy North" of S. Miller Kent and that of Nat C. Goodwin. Goodwin is something beyond the artist. He is a genius. There is no living actor that can duplicate his work. Mr. Kent doesn't try to do so. He employs his own individuality; gives his own interpretation. He has the courage to be original; and the courage furthermore, which few so-called "stars" possess, to surround himself with real actors. He has no fear of being overshadowed and isn't. But if individualizing continue it will be but to praise every member of the excellent supporting company. The minor parts, even supernumerary bits, are as faithfully rendered as the more conspicuous characters.—Free Press, October 18, 1901.

Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels are the best minstrel attraction that has played here this season. It is fun and enjoyment from start to finish, nothing drags, and the singing is the best by long odds that has been heard lately on the local stage.—Peoria, Ill., Journal.

Get your razors out. There's going to be a Possum-a-a-dance at the Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels Monday night.

The theme of Adelaide Thurston's new play, "Sweet Clover," in which she will be seen here shortly, is one that ought to appeal to a wide range of playgoers. Twenty years before the curtain rises, Lois Holcomb's mother has deserted husband and babe for an unprincipled artist named Slade. Lois has been brought up in her Connecticut farm home ignorant of her mother's shame, and under the jealously guarding eye of her aged father, who dreads lest the sinful blood of the mother shall yet be revealed in the daughter. But despite the watchful care, she meets a young and handsome artist named Slade, the adopted son of the very rascal who had ruined her father's home. Her father catches her at night, outside the house in the arms of her secret lover. In the rage of suspicion he accuses her of following in the footsteps of her mother. Then she learns the truth of the domestic tragedy and the villain's name. Thinking that her lover is the son of her mother's paramour and fearing the news will prostrate her old father, she falsely tells him that the man whose arms she has just left was Eldridge Grosvenor, an unloved suitor whose cause has been pressed by the father, and she agrees to marry Grosvenor. Six months afterwards amid fashionable surroundings in the city, the heroine is found the wife of her father's choice, and happy in the love of a truly noble husband. At a tableaux party, she meets the young artist whom she threw over. He has just returned from trip abroad. When alone and confronted by him with an accusation of faithlessness, she learns that she erred in thinking him the son of the man who disgraced her home. The discarded lover, in a frenzy, follows husband and wife to their home, after the party. The husband has to leave the city on business that night and his mind is burdened with suspicions of his young wife's fidelity. He goes to take his train. Outside the house it occurs to him that he has forgotten some important papers. He returns for a moment to secure them, leaving the front door ajar. The artist, taking a madman's chances, enters unobserved. The wife, in negligence, thinking her spouse is still at home, leaves her chamber to say a parting word. She descends the stair case calling his name, and finds herself confronted by her old lover. A passionate scene ensues. The wife's sense of honor is outraged and she demands that he depart. The husband, beset with jealous suspicions, returns in time to see the man leaving his house. He believes his wife unfaithful and accuses her. Her protests and prayers are unavailing and he leaves her with the vow that one of them, either he or the man whom he believes has ruined his happiness, must die. The untangling of this complication is told in the last act. To reveal it at this time would rob the intended auditor of the pleasure in witnessing the play. There are two other love stories interwoven with the main theme, and they offer the comic possibilities with which the play is said to abound.

Miss Nora O'Brien who is playing Maxine Elliott's part in "The Cowboy and the Lady" began her professional career with Wilson Barrett during his run of "The Sign of the Cross" in London. Miss O'Brien returned to America and entered into an agreement with Hanford and Spencer in a series of classic plays, and the past season played the opposite part to Mrs. LeMayne whose season recently closed.

It was only a few months ago that

S. Miller Kent was playing leads in the Frohman companies. He believed he had the ability to star. Like the boy of the song he "guessed right the very first time." He has been a success from the very first. He is young, he is vigorous, he is talented; he is not a ringer, just natural, that's all; he acts intelligently, originally, brilliantly at times, and above all he has the proverbial fire and finish of the artist.

"The Cowboy and the Lady" is like a breath of the free hills. We can't help but sigh for another whiff. At The Kentucky Tuesday night.

The great Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels appeared at the Grand Opera house last night. It is the strongest aggregation this company has ever carried and the first part setting is the finest ever seen on the local stage. The monologue work of Barlow and Wilson was exceedingly clever, while the quartette met with round after round of applause; and the work of Marion and Pearl was the greatest novelty seen here this season. Taken all in all it is well named Greater.—Burlington Hawkeye.

The sale of seats for the Jessie Bartlett Davis concert at The Kentucky Tuesday night April 1 for the benefit of the Home of the Friendless, continues and reserved seat coupons will be obtainable and regular seat sale begun at the box office on Thursday, March 27, and to say it will be a rare treat to hear Miss Davis is speaking mildly. One of her songs, "O, Promise Me," is worth the price of admission alone.

TO THE PUBLIC.

After considerable wiring we finally succeeded in getting Mr. Smith, manager of Mr. S. Miller Kent, in "The Cowboy and the Lady," that will be at The Kentucky Tuesday night, to make top prices $1 instead of $1.50. "The Cowboy and the Lady" is one of the best attractions that will be at The Kentucky this season. Very truly yours,

J. E. English.

"Arizona" was witnessed for the first time in Paducah last evening by a well pleased audience at The Kentucky. It is one of the most natural, charming plays seen here this season, with its invigorating atmosphere of the West, enlivened by scenes of rough, wholesome life of both ranchman and soldier. The company is one of the best on the road, and the parts fitted the various principals like gloves. There was a delightful coloring to the performance, and it was often but a step from the most amusing to the most pathetic scenes.

Sydney Ainsworth as Lieutenant Denton is happily selected. He is attractive, of splendid physique and has a voice that is pleasing and expressive. One of his strongest scenes is at the end of the second act, and he acts it most admirably. Gruff, but honest and warm-hearted, is Mart E. Heisey as Henry Canby, the ranch owner. Mr. Heisey has been to Arizona and studied the people, and interprets his part with capital ability and realism. Miss Sylvester Cornish as Mrs. Canby, or "Ma," was very acceptable, and Estrella, wife of Colonel Bonham, was well presented by Miss Gertrude Perry, while Miss Elsie Esmond, as "Bonita," was a most graceful and captivating personage. John Drury as "Tony," Ben Ringgold as "Dr. Fenlon," Neil Florence as "Captain Hodgman," Chas. E. Mitchell as "Sergeant Keller," Miss Beatrice Ray as "Lena," Geo. T. Meech as "Colonel Bonham," and John T. Dillon as the Chinese cook interpreted their parts with unusual ability, and the audience demonstrated its appreciation of their excellent work by frequent curtain calls. The next time "Arizona" comes this way it will have a packed house.

Many Uses of Petroleum.

Petroleum and its products are applied in surgery and medicine; in the making of ice and the production of light; in paint manufacture and the preparation of oilcloths; in the manipulation of rubber and in washing wool. Where it is cheap, it replaces coal; in almost all modern plants some one of the petroleum derivatives is used for the enrichment of gas. For general lubrication the paraffin oils are the most serviceable.

EUROPE'S FUTURE QUEENS.

Richest in Princess of Denmark, the Prettiest of Roumania.

The future queen of Denmark is one of the richest princesses of Europe. She is the daughter of the late King Charles XV. of Sweden and Norway, and inherited enormous wealth from her mother, nee Princess Louise of the Netherlands. She possesses the distinction of being the tallest princess of Europe, and is a strong-willed woman with any amount of pluck and determination.

The prettiest of crown princesses is the wife of Prince Ferdinand of Roumania, in whom English people feel a special interest since she is the eldest daughter of the late duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha.

Prince Ferdinand is nephew to the present king of Roumania, who has no children.

Another granddaughter of Queen Victoria's who is a crown princess is the duchess of Sparta, wife of the crown prince of Greece. Her mother was the late Empress Frederick, and she herself is, of course, sister to the German emperor.

Princess Sophia is tall and good looking, and of an amiable disposition. A brilliantly accomplished woman is the crown princess of Sweden, who unfortunately suffers from delicate health. She is the daughter of the grand duke of Baden and Princess Louise of Prussia—an only daughter of the late Emperor William I. and a sister of the late Emperor Frederick—and married Crown Prince Oscar Gustave of Sweden in 1881.

Their marriage became quite unintentionally an act of historic restitution, for it happens that Princess Victoria of Baden is the great-granddaughter of the banished Swedish King Gustave IV. (Adolf); and thus the great-grandson of Bernadotte led back to Scandinavia the relative of the monarch whom his forefather had chased from the throne.

The young princess who was married toward the end of last year to Prince Albert of Flanders, and who will in the natural course of events one day share with him the throne of Belgium, is the third daughter of Duke Charles Theodor of Bavaria, who lives in Munich, and is famous as an oculist. He has performed over 1,000 serious operations.

The fourth daughter of Duke Charles Theodor of Bavaria—Princess Marie Gabrielle—is also the wife of an heir presumptive. She is married to Prince Rupert of Bavaria, and is considered quite the prettiest and most attractive of the Bavarian princesses.

A VIOLET.

God does not send us strange
Flowers every year;
When the spring winds blow
O'er the pleasant places
The same dear things lift
Up the same fair faces;
The violet is here.

It all comes back—the Odor, grace and hue—
Each sweet relation of its Life repeated;
No blank is left, no
Looking-for is cheated;
It is the thing we knew.

So after death—winter
It must be;
God will not put strange
Signs in heavenly places;
The old love shall look out
From the old faces—
Veilchen! I have thee!

SOME CAUSES THEREOF.

That overworked phrase, "nothing doing," is peculiarly appropriate to Paducah society this week. There is absolutely a dead calm, and no one seems inclined to make it ripple even. Usually there are some small informal, kept quiet as a "sop to the conscience," but even these are "without precedent" this week, or if in existence must have been altogether tete-a-tete, as they are quite beyond the society reporter's ken. But how is Society employing her rest-time? Well, in not being idle, you may be sure, or else that old adage in regard to Satan and idle hands would be verified and there would be "plenty a-doing." No. She can be found at church gathering strength for the insistent demands of the more strenuous life when it comes, and she is giving to her club a more diligent attendance, so the soul and mind are receiving attention, and the body is not being altogether neglected, for the whilom society girl is certainly busy sewing. She is evolving the most charming creations that will make the Summer Girl a far more dangerous creature than ever. Just watch for her, ye lords of creation, and bow before her. She will burst upon you in full glory at Easter-tide, for while Easter comes early, if these spring-like days continue the trees and flowers will bud, so why may not the pretty girl don her airy Easter gown and hat? While many things may have contributed to the general quietude, may not the rumors of Easter brides, and brides continuous from then on, be a cause sufficient for much of the unusual stillness, and sewing galore? Of course if she and her bridesmaids are planning their gowns they have not time or inclination for lesser affairs. It is true many say they are preparing for a trip; yes, but there are trips and trips you know. Who are the brides? you ask. Well, really, who are they not? If Dame Rumor is to be relied on most everybody you know will be keeping time to Lohengrin or Mendelssohn this spring or summer.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The announcement this week of the engagement of Miss Mira R. Gould to Captain Leffert Lefferts Buck of New York City brought with it the shadow of regret as well as the pleasure such announcements usually cause, in that it will lose to Paducah's social life one of its most delightful members. The Gould home, at the edge of town, so charmingly distinctive in its bearings, has always been the synonym for pleasure and hospitality, and the three sisters have worn with a charming grace the mantle left them by a notable father and mother and a line of noble ancestry. Each has been distinctively different, yet with the same fine traits, that it does not seem any one of them can be spared.

Miss Mira Gould's charm, vivacity and sweet womanliness have won her a host of friends in all the varied walks of life in her native city, and they will be very loth to see her leave and make her home elsewhere.

Captain Buck, her fiancé, is a distinguished gentleman and quite the kind of man to capture a prize every time. He has more than a national reputation as a bridge constructor, having built the big Brooklyn bridge, and was a distinguished soldier in the Civil War. He has several times lately been to Paducah and has made many friends here.

MISS ADDIE ASHBROOK.

Standing on the very threshold of the life of gracious young womanhood, with every interest to attract and hold her to this earthly sphere, this gifted girl was called this week to a life whose fullness and richness earthly vision cannot measure. Yet she answered the summons with an obedient, child-like grace that ever has its charm and takes from that which we strangely call death its bitterness. Just when the "lengthening of the days" brings to us a sense of more leisure, rest and time, and when spring is calling the earth into freshness and life she went where the days have no night and the tree of life is ever blooming. Popular, bright, pleasant and talented she had many friends to mourn her going, and who will miss her as the days go on. One likes to think, though, that her beautiful voice which was of such rare power and compass, and was being carefully trained here, is being put to its highest use now, and is giving pleasure by its perfection to the Lord of all Talents, who will one day call for their return with interest.

IN HONOR OF MISS

FLORA MAY CLARK.

Quite an ovation was accorded Miss Flora May Clark in her home town on Monday evening at The Kentucky, when she played Lygia in "Quo Vadis." The audience was not only large and representative, but most enthusiastic. After the performance a banquet was given in her honor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Clark, that was quite a delightful occasion. The house was prettily decorated and the menu was most elaborate. Quite a number of guests were present, including the "Quo Vadis" company, some out-of-town friends and visitors and a number of distinguished Paducahans.

U. D. C. MEETING.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. John P. Campbell on Tuesday afternoon. It was a large and representative attendance of the chapter and the meeting was a most pleasant social occasion as well. Mrs. Charles E. Graham and Mrs. J. C. Flournoy were received as members; other names for membership were accepted also. Mrs. Thomas E. Moss, the historian, gave an interesting paper on war time history. It was decided to hold a lawn fete at the residence of Mrs. D. G. Murrell as soon as the weather was pleasant. This will be for the benefit of the chapter. Delightful chocolate and cake were hospitably served by the hostess.

MARRIED LADIES' EUCHE

CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Charles E. Gridley entertained the Married Ladies' Euchre club very delightfully at her pleasant home on North Sixth street on Tuesday afternoon. The first prize was won by Mrs. James Sherrill and the second prize by Mrs. Frank Wahl. An elaborate course luncheon was served after the game.

The club members include: Mesdames A. J. Reitz, E. W. Bockmon, James Sherrill, Pat Lally, Henry Hans, John McHenry, Frank Wahl, Will Katterjohn, I. Young, Harry Meyers, H. G. Harmeling, C. E. Gridley.

D. A. R. MEETING.

The Daughters of the American Revolution held an interesting meeting with Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells on Thursday morning. Mrs. Frank L. Scott read a delightful paper on "The Settlement of the Carolinas and Georgia," and Mrs. Leslie Soule gave a character study of "The Men of That Period." Charming music was furnished by Miss Virginia Lesh and Miss Mayme Dryfus. A fitting complement of the morning's pleasure was the attractive luncheon served by Mrs. Wells.

DELPHIC CLUB MEETING.

An especially pleasant meeting of the Delphic club was enjoyed on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Scott. Mrs. Richard Baker contributed a very interesting paper to the morning's pleasure on "Goethe at Weimar, 1776-1876, and His Works of This Period." Mrs. Robert Phillips gave a charming account of "Princes and Men of Letters at Weimar." The study of Goethe will occupy the entire month of March and is proving most delightful.

THE COMING WEEK.

The Musical club will meet in the lecture room of the Cumberland Presbyterian church on Monday evening.

Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips is the hostess of the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Wahl will entertain the Married Ladies' Euchre club on Tuesday afternoon.

The Delphic club meets with Mrs. Frank L. Scott on Tuesday morning.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Miss Anne Reed has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Montrose P. McArdle of St. Louis.

Miss Hallie Hisey, one of the season's charming debutantes, is attending a house party in Lexington, Ky., at the home of Miss Jennie James.

Mrs. Charles E. Dallam of Henderson, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Muscoe Burnett of the West End, returned home this week.

Miss Faith Langstaff reached New Orleans this week en route for Pass Christian. She and her grandfather, Colonel Quigley, were caught in the Mississippi cyclone and had a very narrow escape, being on the Chicago limited that suffered much damage and was delayed by the high wind.

The going of Mr. Ollie Allard to New York City to reside will be a great loss to the life and pleasure of Paducah's younger society set, of which Mr. Allard is a most popular member. He has accepted a position with the Adams express company there and carries with him the best wishes of a host of friends hereabouts.

Miss Ellender Wilson of Martin, Tenn., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Harry W. Gleaver, at 418 North Seventh street. Miss Wilson formerly lived in Paducah, where her father, Rev. G. W. Wilson, was pastor of the Broadway Methodist church, and has many friends to welcome her. She is a graduate of Randolph-Macon college, Virginia, and is very charming and bright.

That very clever young writer, Mrs. Ethel Watts Mumford of New York City, who is well known and variously related here in Paducah, has quite a bright little story among the stories of the March Munsey. It is entitled "Out of the West" and is laid in California and deals with the Chinese servant question in a very amusing and original way. It is really quite clever and shows that the author is not destitute of that saving sense of humor that is not claimed as an attribute of the "eternally feminine" writer.

Of the marriage of Miss Alma Reis of Evansville, who has often been a popular visitor in Paducah, to Mr. Sydney Mitchell of Memphis, on Wednesday evening an Evansville dispatch says: "Miss Alma Reis, the beautiful daughter of Henry Reis, cashier of the Old National bank, was married this evening to Sydney Mitchell of Memphis, at the home of the bride's parents. It was a beautiful home wedding. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. L. Marques of Grace Presbyterian church. The house was filled with the society people of the city, of which Miss Reis has been a prominent figure for several years. Miss Denly was the maid of honor, but the groom was not attended. A luncheon was served after the nuptials, when the young couple left on a brief honeymoon to St. Louis. They will be at home in Memphis after April 20."

ANSWER FILED.

DR. BARBER REPLIES TO HIS WIFE'S PETITION FOR DIVORCE.

An answer in the big Barber divorce suit in Calloway county will be prepared today by Attorney William Reed, for the defendant, Dr. Frank Barber.

Some time ago Mrs. Barber, wife of the well known Murray doctor, filed suit against him for divorce, the custody of her child, $5,000 alimony, $1,200 per year maintenance and for the recovery of property alleged to be hers and valued at $20,000.

Both parties of the suit are in the city and the defendant will make his answer discrediting all and claiming that she, the plaintiff, left his house without cause whatever, and also claiming that she is not entitled to the child.

This is one of the biggest divorce suits filed in that county for some time.

MARRY AT BARDWELL.

Mr. James Leigh, a wood worker in the Illinois Central shop, leaves today for Bardwell, where tomorrow he will be married to Miss Mollie Lynn, a charming young lady of that place. They will return Monday and reside at the Leigh residence on South Seventh street.

The Divining Rod.

Sir Thomas Lauder Brunton delivered a lecture before the Medico-Physiological association, in London, one day recently, in which he declared the futility of the divining rod as an agent in discovering the presence of water underground is a mistake. He based his statements on experiments made by two extremely sensitive Englishwomen, who had proved that, while the witch hazel plant, commonly used as a divining rod, did not itself contain any qualities influenced by water, it was valuable in giving signs of the involuntary muscular motion in the human being produced by the presence of water in the vicinity of the experimenter. The scientist cited the camel in the desert, which detects water miles away, and asked: "Why may not the human organism involuntarily detect its presence a few feet away and impress the fact on the divining rod?"

Story of Intelligent Crows.

Two crows lighted upon a frozen pond. One got a firm footing upon a cake of ice but the other pitched into some pulp snow, from which he found it impossible to extricate himself. Crow No. 1 went to the rescue, but being unable to help his partner out of the scrape, stopped, cocked his head on one side in deliberation, chattered for a moment with the prisoner and flew off. In about ten minutes he returned, accompanied by two other crows and the three, putting their heads together for a consultation, flew around their unfortunate comrade to examine his condition. Then, by a joint effort, they raised him up and set him upon the ice. He was very cold and weak, but they brushed the snow from his limbs, rubbed against him until the warmth of their bodies thawed him out, and finally all departed together.—New York Press.
